_____ to participate in the Coe College Upward Bound (Print name of student)

Program during June and July. I understand that the program involves class work, field trips, and recreational activities. I understand that the Coe College Upward Bound Program will be traveling to the Upward Bound Olympics (a one-day event), to a major city in the Midwest for three days in July, and to various activities throughout the summer.

Transportation to Upward Bound activities will involve one of the following methods.

- (A) For trips to the Olympics and the Major City trip we will transport student in chartered buses with professional drivers.
- (B) For local activities and field trips, we will transport students in school buses with professional drivers.
- (C) For small group activities we will transport students in vans driven by adult staff members (at least 21 years old) with good driving records.

Students being transported by any other upward Bound student without the written permission of the parents or guardians of both the driver and the rider is in direct violation of the rules of the Upward Bound Program. While we take every precaution to supervise students, we can not be held responsible if students violate this or any other rule of the program.

While participating in the Coe College Upward Bound Program, educational opportunities, room, board, admission fees and transportation to activities are provided for students by a grant funded by the U. S. Department of Education. While occupying the residence hall, the staff of Upward Bound will respect the privacy of the individual students; however, the Program reserves and retains the right to search any room that a participant may occupy without advance warning.
